

Labo.Ger.S - Laboratoires Gernétic Synthèse

Applied Cellular Biology

Great Chemistry

After 25 years of cellular biology research French biologist Albert Laporte established Labo.Ger.S in 1978 with the aim of creating a highly concentrated and highly effective skin care range for beauty and wellbeing.

The results of Gernétic are based on the body's ability to recover its health and harmony when its cells receive active nutritional molecules.

Gernétic's approach to skin care is to deliver the optimal dosage and combination of nutritional molecules such as amino acids, proteins, peptides, bio-peptides, vitamins and trace elements in order to relieve skin conditions, to assist repair and to delay the appearance of the visual signs of the ageing process.

Those nutritional molecules are obtained from Biotechnology and Phytobiology.
